(54) Title: A METHOD OF IMPLEMENTING ACCOUNT AND ACCOUNT SYSTEM

(54) 发明名称: 一种实现计费的方法及计费系统

A TABLE S D LIST 3
B LIST 1 E LIST N
C LIST 2 F TABLE P

(57) Abstract: The invention provides a method of implementing account, includes: building the corresponding relation between serve attribute and account rule; when needing to account the paying serve, acquiring the serve attribute of the said paying serve; according to the serve attribute of the said paying serve acquiring account rule of the said paying serve; according to the said account rule acquired uniformly accounting the said paying serve; the invention also provides a account system for implementing account method of the invention, includes: acquiring account rule module, implementing account module; by using the invention when needing to develop new serve or modify the account method of the old serve, only modifying the serve information provided to implementing account module, it can meet the account demand of each serve, make implementing account module in the account system be independent of serve, thereby reducing the cost of account system, advancing the stabilization, credibility, currency.
